

RUSSIANS ARE BADLY BEATEN

One Whole Regiment Is Almost Annihilated in a Desperate Fight with Japanese.

MOVE CLOSER TO PORT ARTHUR

The Mikado's Troops Are Steadily Working Their Way Towards the Czar's Stronghold--Fighting Continues Daily.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Rome, July 1.—The Japanese legation here has news that the Japanese army is now almost in touch with Gen. Kuropatkin's command. The Russian position at Liao Yang is becoming untenable.

Battle Raging
St. Petersburg, July 1.—The newspaper Russ has a telegram from Hail-Cheng repeating the report of a battle raging at Kachow.

Kill a Regiment
London, July 1.—The Shanghai correspondent of the London Morning Post reports the capture by the Japanese of the Wolf mountains, fifteen miles north of Port Arthur, after desperate fighting. According to this account the Russians were partially surrounded and the slaughter was great, an entire Russian regiment being annihilated.

Kuroki in Kuropatkin's Rear
Tokio, July 1.—An official report reached here yesterday to the effect that Gen. Kuroki's right wing has succeeded in cutting the railroad between Mukden and Liao Yang, and is therefore in a position to force Kuropatkin to give battle at the latter place subject to an attack on three sides. The details of the movement are lacking, and the precise place at which Kuroki's force has struck the railroad is not known. It is believed, however, to be near the point where the east branch of the Hun river crosses the road.

No additional details of the fighting about Ta Chi Chiao and Hail Cheng have been received and definite news from Port Arthur is lacking.

Stackelberg Escapes Trap
New Chung, July 1.—The fighting to the east and south of Hail Cheng continues, with the Russians making desperate resistance, but retreating steadily under the smashing attacks of the Japanese artillery and infantry. Train loads of wounded are being sent back to the base of Harbin and the Russian losses are said to be very heavy. According to the latest reports received here the main body of the Japanese army corps from Teng Cheng and Sin Yen had joined forces at Si Mu Cheng and the Japanese advance guard had reached Tai Li Tun, less than ten miles south of Hail Cheng, while Ota's main body was just below Ta Sechi Chiao, steadily advancing north, driving Samsonoff's Cossacks before them with little difficulty. The infantry and artillery of Stackelberg's command has succeeded in reaching Kuropatkin at Hail Cheng.

There are persistent reports that Kuropatkin, with 40,000 men, is to the eastward of the railroad between Liao Yang and Mukden, and the Russian officers here fear that Kuropatkin's position is difficult, not to say desperate.

Cheerful News from Port Arthur
Your correspondent succeeded in having a talk today with an officer of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer, Lieut. Burukoff, which has reached here from Port Arthur. As to the method of escape or the naval or military operations he would say nothing, but he did say that the damage to the Russian fleet in the recent sortie was not severe, none of the big ships having been disabled or seriously damaged. There is, he says, plenty of food and ammunition in Port Arthur to last a year if necessary. The garrison is ample to defend the place and the spirit of the men is fine. The Japanese have made no serious impression on the land defenses, and there is no fear that they will be able to accomplish the downfall of the fortress either by assault or siege for a long time to come, at any rate.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—The tenor of the news from the seat of war has been more hopeful. Kuropatkin is holding his own at Hail Cheng, and it is believed here soon will be able to resume the offensive again. News has come through from Port Arthur that the recent sea fighting has not seriously damaged the vessels of the squadron, while the garrison is in fine spirits and will be able to withstand any possible attacks from the Japanese. It is denied that the besiegers have captured any important positions in the line of defense.

Explosion at Cronstadt
The reported blowing up of the arsenal at Cronstadt created consternation today and all sorts of rumors were current. The explosion was attributed variously to nihilists and Japanese spies. The extent of the damage and the causes of the explosion have not yet been made public. It is usually well-informed circles it is declared the damage does not amount to much.

Baltic Fleet Delayed
Your correspondent is informed that under the favorable circumstances the Baltic fleet will not be able to sail for the far east for at least two months; the new battleships cannot be put in fighting trim before that time, if then. Everything possible is being done to get them ready to sail before the heavy winter ice comes and they cannot sail. It can be said that no real attempt will be made by the Port Arthur squadron to engage the fleet until the squadron is well equipped.

Railroad Not Working Well
On high authority it is learned that all sorts of trouble is being experienced with the Trans-Siberian railway. Breakdowns from natural causes are frequent and bands of bandits trouble. Several bridges have been blown up and sections of roads destroyed. These bands operate almost to the shores of Lake Balkal. The movement of troops and munitions under the circumstances necessarily are slow.

Sunday Fight
London, July 1.—A dispatch from Mukden gives the details of a fight outside of Port Arthur on Sunday. The fight occurred between Dainey and Port Arthur. The battle opened with a bombardment of the Japanese fleet while was followed by a land attack. To Japanese made their attack on the heights and succeeded in driving the Russians back. They turned the Russians' left flank by force while crept up under cover of the front fire. The Japanese casualties were augmented by the explosion of Russian mine under the attacking force. The Russian losses were several officers and nearly two hundred men killed. The Japanese losses were greater.

Naval Battle
The Foodly 1.—This evening a report from the neighborhood of Port Arthur indicates the probability a big battle is in progress between the Russian and Japanese fleets. A steamer was within fifteen miles of the light in which Japanese fleet of two battleships and five cruisers were engaged. The Russian fleet was not in view but the land batteries are too far away to engage the Japanese ships. The captain when at G. Foo heard a terrific explosion which was unable to discern whether a Japanese or Russian ship was affected.

Balfour's Health Is Now Critical
The English Minister Is on the Verge of a Serious Collapse.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Manchester, July 1.—The Dispatch today prints a rumor to the effect that Premier Balfour's health is poor and he is showing signs of a collapse. This may result in dissolution of parliament.

English Minister Is on the Verge of a Serious Collapse

WAS NOT DEAD, OR EVEN NEAR IT

Madison Dispatch Tells of a Jamesville Man Who Was Mistaken for a Corpse.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Madison, Wis., July 1.—Lon Rock, representing himself as a member of the Jamesville Five Points club, of the White Light degree thereof, gave Madison a bit of a scare last night by coming to life after he had been reported to the police as "a man found dead." He was found to be only dead drunk. The police doubt whether he is in fact a resident of Jamesville. He was found in an empty freight car in the St. Paul switching yards at West Madison still and stiff, but not yet cold. A police car was sent in and Officer Hart responded. Rock responded to vigorous rubbing and finally was able to confide his story to the officer, concluding that he was only resting in the car while he waited for the 6:20 train for the Bower city. He was pronounced harmless and was deposited in the railroad waiting room to await his train.

Once she attempted to kill him with a cheese knife in the basement under their fruit store. She ran away after a violent quarrel to the visit her brother, Abraham Frank, the saloon-keeper in the Sherman house, Chicago, and there drank laudanum. He followed to Chicago to bring home the body and in a fit of remorse shot himself.

NAME SWALLOW FOR PRESIDENT

General Miles Refused To Allow His Name To Be Used for Prohibition Nomination.

CARROLL FOR HIS RUNNING MATE

The Prohibitionists Make Their Platform and Raise Their Campaign Fund for the Fall Campaign's Work.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
For President—Silas C. Swallow.
For Vice President—George W. Carroll.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—Silas C. Swallow, the "fighting parson" of Pennsylvania, is the nominee of the Prohibitionists for president of the United States. He was nominated by acclamation. His running mate on the ticket is George W. Carroll of Beaumont, Texas, a wealthy owner of oil properties, a philanthropist and a man of energy and business integrity. Mr. Carroll was opposed by Isaiah H. Amos of Oregon for the vice-presidential honor, and the first roll call of the convention was taken to settle the friendly struggle. The Texas received 626 votes and the Pacific slope man 132. Mr. Amos arose and moved to make the vote unanimous, which was done.

Gen. Miles Withdraws.
The nomination of the famous Harbison minister and editor without opposition was made possible by the withdrawal of the name of Gen. Nelson A. Miles. Until noon the Miles delegates were firm in their belief that they would succeed in placing the warrior at the head of the Prohibition ticket. Gen. Miles would have had solid support of such states as Massachusetts, Missouri and Kentucky and a good share of the strength of Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana and half a dozen southern and western commonwealths besides.

Telegram to Woolley.
But Gen. Miles himself put a stop to the movement in his behalf. About the time most of the delegates were at lunch a telegram was handed to John G. Woolley of Chicago, who has been the engineer in chief of the Miles anti-convention campaign. This dispatch follows:

"New York, June 30. Hon. John G. Woolley, Prohibition National Convention, Indianapolis, Ind.:—Appreciating the good will of yourself and friends, I must earnestly request that my name be not used in the convention and that my letter of June 20 be considered final. Nelson A. Miles."

Text of Platform.
The platform follows:

The Prohibition party in national convention assembled at Indianapolis, June 30, 1904, recognizing that the chief end of all government is the establishment of those principles of freedom, justice and equality which have been revealed to man as the will of the over-living God, and desiring His blessing upon our national life, and believing in the perpetuation of the high ideals of government of the people, by the people and for the people, established by our fathers, makes the following declaration of principles and purposes:

1. The widely prevailing system of the licensed and legalized sale of alcoholic beverages is so ruinous to individual interests, so inimical to public welfare, so destructive to national wealth, and so subversive to the rights of great masses of our citizenship, that the destruction of the traffic is and for years has been the most important question in American politics.

Denounces Old Parties.
2. We denounce the lack of statesmanship exhibited by the leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties in their refusal to recognize the paramount importance of this question and the cowardice with which the leaders of those parties have courted the favor of those whose selfish interests are advanced by the continuation and augmentation of the traffic, until today the influence of the liquor traffic practices dominates national, state and local government throughout the nation.

3. We declare the truth, demonstrated by the experience of half a century, that all methods of dealing with the liquor traffic which recognize its right to exist in any form under any system of license or tax of regulation have proved powerless to remove its evils and useless as checks upon its growth, while the insignificant public revenues which have accrued therefrom have served the public conscience against a recognition of its iniquity.

Prohibition Is Only Hope.
4. We call public attention to the fact, proved by the experience of more than fifty years, that to secure the enactment and enforcement of prohibitory legislation in which alone lies hope of the protection of the people from the liquor traffic, it is necessary that the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government should be in the hands of a political party in harmony with the prohibition principle and pledged to its embodiment in law and to the execution of those laws.

5. We pledge the Prohibition party, wherever given power by the suffrage of the people, to the enactment and enforcement of laws prohibiting and abolishing the manufacture, importation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages.

But One Issue.
6. We declare that there is not only no other issue of equal importance before the American people today, but that the so-called issues upon which the Democratic and Republican parties seek to divide the electors of the country are in large part subterfuges, under the cover of which they wrangle for the spoils of office.

7. Recognizing that the intelligent voters of the country may properly ask our attitude upon other questions of public concern, we declare ourselves in favor of:

The impartial enforcement of all laws.

The safeguarding of the people's rights by a right application of the principles of justice to all combinations and organizations of capital and labor.

A more intimate relation between the people and government by a wise adaptation of the principle of the initiative and referendum.

And appealing to every citizen in every place under the government of the people of the United States of all the rights guaranteed by the laws and the Constitution.

International arbitration, and declare that our nation should maintain in every manner consistent with national dignity to the permanent establishment of peace between all nations.

BRYAN ADVISES HIS OLD COLLEGE CHUM ROBERT

Editor of the Commoner Advises Wisconsin's Governor to Leave the Republican Party.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Lincoln, Neb., July 1.—Bryan in the Commoner today predicts that Governor La Follette of Wisconsin must eventually get out of the republican party; as it holds out no hope of inaugurating any of the reforms which the governor advocates. Bryan says:

The governor certainly had a hard combination to fight and it is no wonder that he lost out. He has doubtless found that the corporations run the national organization of the republican party, just as but for the fact that he would run the Wisconsin republican organization. But what is he doing to do about it? He cannot hope to maintain his place in the republican party in Wisconsin with the national administration against him. Neither can he make much headway against the domination of his state by the corporations so long as he excuses and defends the corporate domination of the national organization and administration. He has a rocky road before him, and as there is no hope of the national organization being freed from monopoly rule Governor La Follette must in the end give up his seat or leave the republican party. In the meantime he is doing a good deal of educational work.

MILTON COLLEGE HAS GRADUATION

DR. PLANTZ OF LAWRENCE GIVES ANNUAL ADDRESS.

THE HALL CORNER STONE LAID

New Whitford Memorial Library is Being Erected, to Cost Twenty Thousand Dollars.

The commencement program of Milton college was given Wednesday in a large auditorium tent on the campus. The program opened with selections from "Faust" (Gounod) by the college orchestra. After an invocation the college chorus sang the "Milton Chorus" from Gounod's "Faust." President Samuel Plantz of Lawrence university, a former student of the college, made the annual address. His theme was "Education and Life."

The Address
President Plantz urged that after leaving college graduates should live a growing and expanding intellectual life. Too many college men try to make the acquisitions of four years last for forty. Few gain in college the scholar's impulse and desire to keep up an intimate acquaintance with the masters of human thought. If the reverse were true society would have men who think in place of men who have opinions, and the college graduates would enter into the experience and joy of a constantly expanding life, that he should devote attention and time to the attainment of happiness. A man can be as much enslaved by a theory of existence as by chains. The scholar should learn how to find the joy of living.

President Daland then presented the annual statement, which showed the same number of students as last year, but a considerable increase in the proportion of scientific students. The course has been broadened. A. R. Crandall, professor of natural science, is the only faculty addition of the year. With these improvements and the new Whitford memorial hall, the cornerstone of which was laid Thursday, the department of science enters upon a new era. Regret was expressed at the resignation of Miss Susie B. Davis, instructor in English and elocution, who leaves for advanced study at the Northwestern university. Miss Anna Bahcock, B. A. of New York, has been engaged to take her place.

At 2:30 in the afternoon the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of Whitford memorial hall, the new science and library building, which is being erected at a cost of $20,000, took place. It was in charge of the alumni association.

At 5:30 the alumni banquet took place, with E. E. Campbell, M. D., as toastmaster. From 8:30 to 11 o'clock President Daland gave a reception at his residence.

MILWAUKEE PUGILIST IS VERY INDIGNANT

Faker Who Posed Under Name of the Milwaukee Pugilist, is Exposed.

Sometime ago a youthful prize fighter appeared in Janesville and claimed to be Joe Percente of Milwaukee. He was contracted to fight a local boxer and made elaborate plans for the encounter. He trained diligently on Milwaukee street and in front of numerous bars about the city. He told wonderful stories of his former battles and his prowess in the ring but when the time came to "make good" with the forfeit to be posted for the match he balked and disappeared between sunset and sunrise. It now appears he is not the Joe Percente of Milwaukee who has a good reputation as boxer, but some faker. The following dispatch from Milwaukee papers explains the situation:

La Crosse, Wis., June 30.—The prize fighter defeated by Kid Brown of Chicago Monday night, claiming to be Joe Percente of Milwaukee, challenges the Milwaukee man, claiming to be Joe Percente, to a match for $500 a side. The local man claims he is the real and original Joe Percente of Milwaukee.

Joe Percente, the Milwaukee light-weight, when shown the dispatch received from La Crosse, says that he has not fought since a year ago in February, when he met Charles Berry here and he avers that the La Crosse man has no right to his name.

Percente has been in the city every day for over six months and the La Crosse man is using his name wrongfully. Percente is well-known here having engaged in many battles in the past five years. He retired over a year ago, and since that time has not fought anyone. The man at La Crosse probably has been shown up, and to make his bluff good, offers to wager that he is the real Percente.

THOUSANDS START FOR THE AGENCY

BONESTEEL GROWS LIKE A MUSH:
ROOM OVER NIGHT.

THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND THERE

Waiting for the Opening of the Rosebud Agency Lands—Scenes of the Wild and Woolly West.

Bonesteel, S. D. On the edge of the famous Rosebud Indian Reservation—There was a time when all roads led to Bonesteel. It is changed now, and they all lead to Bonesteel. And from the looks of this town, the very newest of the entire great West, everyone has taken to the road that leads by the way of Bonesteel, to the Rosebud Indian country, a large part of which is to be thrown open for settlement early next week.

Miles and miles before the trains, which are crowded to their utmost capacity, come within sight of the town, the would-be settlers on horseback, in wagons, and some even on foot, may be seen wending their way along the old Indian trail which, in later years, was made into a government road, bent on reaching Bonesteel, where the greatest rush is expected when registration begins next Tuesday.

In the town proper, hundreds of these settlers after Rosebud lands are camped in tents and wagons, while still others are gathered in the dozens of frail rooming houses which have been hastily thrown together. Look for 35,000 People.

Two years ago Bonesteel consisted of one lonely country store. Two months ago it was a thriving town of 1,000, with a number of good, substantial buildings. Today it is a city of 7,000, 8,000 of whom are living in tents and rooming-houses. On July 4 it is estimated that 15,000 people will be here, and the vigorous citizens are making preparations for from 25,000 to 35,000, when, on July 5, Commissioner of the General Land Office Richards throws open the doors of the new city hall and admits the waiting throng to the registers.

Saloons there are and gambling dens galore. Never in the palmy days of headwood was gambling more rife than in Bonesteel. About every game ever invented can be found in one or more of the many public resorts. But there is no lawlessness. As yet there are only half a dozen policemen, but next week the number will be increased to fifty, ten of whom will be United States marshals. In addition, there will be three companies of United States troops from Fort Tabor, who will assist in preserving order during the rush.

Ground Rents Enormous.
Ground rents are something awful in this town. James Cogle owns a small lot on Main street. Three weeks ago he valued the lot at $2,000. Six months ago it was worth probably $100. Today Cogle asks $3,200 for the ground rent for the next sixty days, any building erected to remain on the lot when it is returned to him. And he will get his price, too.

A five-room residence is rented for the next two months at $150 a month. A small space, five by twelve feet, between two stores, is rented for $70 per month. Dave Forbes rented a corner lot for $200 and erected a $150 building thereon. He is now offered $800 for his bargain.

And yet, with these fabulous prices the best meat in the town can be had for 50 cents and a good one at 25 cents. Cots are priced at 25 cents and each person. The citizens are bent on making more from the number present rather than from any single individual.

Old Homesteaders Active.
The old Oklahoma professional homesteaders will probably furnish more "would-be homesteaders" than any state in the union. Michigan and Wisconsin come next, while Iowa and Illinois will also be heavily represented. Minnesota and Nebraska will send large quotas, and numerous inquiries have been received from Kansas. In fact those states which were settled by homesteaders originally, are sending their young sons and daughters to settle the Rosebud country. The know what the free homes did for the older states, and will repeat the operations of the law out here.

Of the far eastern states Massachusetts probably leads with both New York and Pennsylvania as close seconds. A large number of women school teachers are coming from New England states, having arranged to take in Bonesteel and the St. Louis exposition on their vacation. Those who are successful in gaining desirable claims will probably never return to their old homes except on visits.

Special arrangements have been made for unmarried women who come to the town. The congregational church has appointed a committee to take charge of all such, and exclusive rooming houses and tents are reserved for them. Members of this committee will meet all pains.

MANY POUNDS OF MILK RECEIVED

Bower City Ice Cream Manufacturers Receive Several Pounds of Milk from Nearby Towns.
Quite a large amount of cream is being shipped from Sharps to Janesville every morning. St. Pauls per day is the average shipment. Here this cream is converted into ice cream, much of which is sold here by the restaurant keeper. The six cans of cream represent 500 pounds of milk, as it requires about 500 pounds of milk to produce 50 pounds of cream. The largest shipment of cream was received last Monday, when there were 15 cans, containing 80 pounds each.

PLEASANT PARTY LAST EVENING

Mrs. John Peters Entertained the Central School Band of Mercy at Her Home.

NEWS FOR THE RAILROAD MEN.

The Peters band of Mercy, composed of thirty-two young ladies and gentlemen from the Central school, were entertained by Mrs. John Peters at her home on Fourth avenue last evening. At eight o'clock refreshments were served, and the slight was a pretty one, the tables being decorated with carnations and other flowers. After this, the president of the band Miss Marion Hollenbeck, called for a song from all present. This was followed by a piano selection by Wilma Jones. Frank Behling gave a reading. The Blue Bells of Scotland was played on the piano by Loretta Ashley. Ella Reichel read, and Wilma Jones gave a humorous recitation. The Dime Museum, that caused shouts of laughter. A selection, "Moon Light," was nicely played by Vincent Koch. The members of the band then made reports as to work done by them the last month, and the gold badge was voted to Mamie Langdon, which was presented to her by the president of the Humane society. This badge is solid gold, presented by Mrs. John Peters, to be worn each month by some member of the band. Mrs. Peters then had a good home talk with the band, and stated she would present a gold badge suitably inscribed, to the one who held the present badge the largest number of times during the year. After another song the party broke up. The interest shown by the young people in humane work should be a lesson to some of the older ones, as the Bands of the Mercy are now doing most of this work. The officers of the Peters band are: President, Marion Hollenbeck; Vice-president, Charlotte Charlton; secretary and treasurer, Frank Behling.

SAUSAGE MACHINE CUT OFF FINGERS

Twelve-Year Old Jasper Kennedy Sustained a Terrible Accident in Meat Market Yesterday.

A horrible accident befell Jasper Kennedy, a twelve year old, who had been employed at Kronitz Bros. meat market, yesterday afternoon. While operating the sausage machine his left hand was caught by the revolving knives and the four fingers cut off in less time than it takes to tell it. His cries were heard by friends who rushed to his assistance and hurried him to the office of Dr. Palmer. After the mutilated member had been dressed he was conveyed to his home in the second ward.

Renfro, Miraculously Stricken, Can Talk Again—"The Lord Be Praised."

After a month in which he claimed he could not articulate a sound St. Julian Renfro, a colored boy, of Saratoga, Louisiana, has suddenly regained a speech and the first words he uttered yesterday afternoon were: "The Lord be praised." Renfro was supposed to have been stricken dumb while playing cards with three white companions in Chicago after having made the remark that if there was a God to let him strike him dumb. Ministers took the matter up, physicians investigated the case and the general public read the pro and cons of the question in all the magazine sections of the Sunday papers. Now the boy can talk again. Was he a fake or was it really a case of divine justice?

DETECTIVE CASEY AFTER BOY OUTLAWS

Who Have Inaugurated a Reign of Terror Along the St. Paul Railroad Near Milwaukee.

Detective Patrick Henry Casey, police and claim agent of the St. Paul road, who is a frequent visitor in Janesville, is at present engaged in running down a band of lawless youths who have inaugurated a reign of terror along the railroad in the vicinity of the Cream city. Twenty-one arrests have been made at Cornish and five at Milwaukee since June 21 and each has been followed by conviction. As a result of the work of these youthful desperadoes red glass has been knocked out of the semaphores so that a white light says to engineers: "The track is clear, go ahead"; obstructions have been placed on tracks and engines have struck them; stones have been thrown through passenger car windows; sections men have been hit by bumps of coal thrown from passing trains; gardens have been laid waste; stores have been broken open; glass insulators on telegraph lines have been broken, and other lawless and malicious acts have been done for the mere pleasure of doing them.

The trouble has become much worse since the public schools closed and more boys have become concerned in the mischief. Acting under the direction of Detective Casey special police have been stationed along the road. He says he will stop this wholesale destruction of property and endangerment of life if it takes all summer. In an interview in Milwaukee yesterday he said:

"Large pieces of steel called fishplates have been put on tracks and have been struck by engines. These might easily cause a disaster. Stones are often put on. When the young hoodlums can find nothing better to throw at, they aim at the red lantern of a brakeman on a passing train, or if they are on a train, they throw a lump of coal at the head of a section man. One of these men was knocked senseless. These boys carry revolvers and improvised weapons of various kinds and net like a band of barbarians when they alight in the country or in some small town."

VERDICT OF THE PARTY
The republican national convention in session June 22, 1904, adopted by unanimous vote, the following sentiment, contained in the report of the committee on credentials, and offered by said committee after a thorough investigation of the Wisconsin contest:
"Your committee report it to be their final judgment and unanimous decision that the convention which elected John C. Spooner, Joseph V. Quarles, Joseph W. Babcock and Emil Baensch, as delegates-at-large, together with their alternates, was the regular convention of the republican party in Wisconsin."
This is the highest authority in the party, and the decision ought to satisfy every loyal republican in the state.

IMPLEMENTS.
Exports of agricultural implements from the United States in the fiscal year about to end will amount to about 25 million dollars in value. This is an increase of about 4 million over last year and about 2 million over the preceding year. In no class of manufactures exported has the growth been more steady and persistent than in that of agricultural implements.

The earliest year in which the value of agricultural implements exported was of sufficient importance to justify a separate statement was 1864. In that year the total value of agricultural implements exported was $611,152. In 1870 the total was 1 million dollars, speaking in round figures; in 1880, 2 1/4 millions; in 1890, 3 3/4 millions; in 1895, 5 1/2 millions; in 1900, 10 millions; in 1902, 16 1/4 millions; in 1903, 21 millions, and in 1904, as above indicated, is likely to reach about 25 millions. Comparing this year's exports with those of a decade earlier, the figures in 1904 are practically five times as great as in 1894, the total for 1894 being $5,027,915.

Comparing the growth in exports of agricultural implements with that in other articles during the same period, it may be said that cars and carriages have increased from 3 1/3 million dollars in 1894 to a probable 13 millions in 1904; chemicals, from nearly 1 1/2 millions in 1894 to a probable 14 1/2 millions in 1904; scientific instruments, from 1 1/2 millions in 1894 to 8 millions in 1904; and manufactures of leather, from 14 millions in 1894 to approximately 23 millions in 1904, while agricultural implements have increased from 5 million dollars in 1894 to a probable 25 millions in 1904.

The principle foreign markets for American agricultural implements are shown in a table just prepared by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics. It shows that of the 19 million dollars' worth of agricultural implements exported from the United States during the ten months for which detailed figures are available, nearly 10 millions went to Europe, 4 millions to South America, 3 millions to North America, 1 1/2 millions to Asia and Oceania, and a little over a half million dollars' worth to Africa.

Considering the exports by special the countries, Argentina is, in 1904, the largest customer, the exports thereto in the ten months of 1904 being $3,592,010, against 2 1/2 millions in the corresponding months of 1902. Next in magnitude is Russia, our exports to that country in the ten months ending with April, 1904, being valued at $3,333,442, a decrease of about $300,000 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. France stands third, the exports of agricultural implements to that country being $2,513,061, an increase of nearly a half million dollars over the same months of 1903. The other countries to which the exports of agricultural implements reached a total of one million or upwards in the ten-months period are, in the order named: United Kingdom, $1,383,378; Germany, $1,245,233, and British Australia, $1,226,271; each of these countries showing a substantial increase over the exports of last year.

Mowers and reapers contribute about one-half of the total exports of agricultural implements from the United States, while plows and cultivators supply about one-sixth of the total, the remainder being made up of miscellaneous tools and implements grouped under the general term "All other agricultural implements and parts of." Exports of mowers and reapers have steadily increased, having grown from $2,372,938 in 1892 to $8,818,370 in 1902, $10,226,641 in 1903, and in the fiscal year 1904 will amount to about 13 million dollars. Exports of plows and cultivators have also rapidly increased, having grown from $397,735 in value in 1892 to $2,791,092 in 1902 and $3,169,901 in 1903, and will be fully 3 1/2 millions during the present year. Other agricultural implements have increased from $1,024,310 in 1892 to $4,777,278 in 1902, $7,510,920 in 1903, and a probable 8 1/2 millions in 1904.

PRESS COMMENT

Eau Claire Leader: Bob's appetite for the railroads must be greatly whetted. As The New York Sun puts it, he eats them alive.

Appleton Crescent: Jon Perdicaris, thinks like Russell Sage, that people would get along just as well if they did not take any outings at all.

Milwaukee News: Two Kentucky colonels claim to have seen "a flock of angels ascend from a corn field." Kentucky corn produces many strange visions.

Chicago Tribune: Unless indications are at fault, the authorities at Washington are preparing to read the riot act to Colorado.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Governor Cummings, of Iowa, says the tariff plank in the national platform is entirely satisfactory. Evidently the stand patters and the revisionists are not so far apart after all.

Racine Journal: Now that one of the speakers at the meeting of the Cook county democracy has called W. J. Bryan a political howler, the name of vituperation may be said to have been reached.

New York Press: That adjoining states are setting up a howl against the deportation of Colorado anarchists might be suggested as good evidence that Colorado is justified in banishing them.

Whitewater Register: It has always been claimed by the supporters of Governor La Follette that he was a fighter to the finish, that he never let up till either he or his opponent was on his back. But his conduct at Chicago shows that in reality he is a quitter instead of being a genuine fighter when he is up against the real thing.

Green Bay Gazette: It is claimed that Willie Hearst is going to establish a daily paper in Minneapolis. This is the city where he did not get a "peek in" in his canvass for votes for president. The starting of a paper there now is probably to avenge himself on the population for turning him down.

Racine News: Rev. Dr. De Ford, of St. Louis, taking time by the forelock, insists that Santa Claus is "a harmful abomination," and that he must be killed as a myth. Very well—let Dr. De Ford take old Santa out to the woodshed and proceed to do the killing.

Madison Democrat: The Neenah Times (dem.) declares that "it will be time to talk about Peek after he is nominated, should that event occur, but it is in order now to remark that, however it may be in other parts of the state, there are many democrats in Neenah who will vote for Cook or La Follette in preference to voting for Peek." And around Madison they exist by the hundreds.

NEW MAIL CARRIER FOR JANSVILLE

J. Findley Williams Installed as Regular City Carrier at Local Postoffice

This morning Postmaster O. F. Nowlan put on J. Findley Williams as regular city mail carrier, making in all eight city mail carriers for the city of Janesville. The routes of the carriers have all been changed around, so as to give the residents of the city the best available services that can be obtained with a force of eight carriers. Three carriers now cover the business districts of the city the first trip in the morning and then return to the postoffice and take the mail on their routes for the resident districts.

NO DECREASE IN SALOONS LIKELY

Forty Two Applications Are Already In—Thomas Madden Not To Be Discouraged.

At the adjourned meeting of the city council on Tuesday evening next action will be taken on all the saloon licenses to be granted this year. At noon today forty applications for saloons and two breweries have been received and there was every indication that in spite of the fact that the three bars west of the track are to be eliminated there will be as many if not more saloons in Janesville than during the year past. John Palmer is one of the new proprietors to seek a license. His saloon will be located next to the First National bank. Hennessey Bros. will occupy the stand formerly maintained by Muelenschnieder & Treloff at 67 West Milwaukee street, the senior member of the old firm having died during the past year and the other desiring to retire from the business. It is rumored that Coyne Bros. will start a saloon on North Main street but no application for a license has yet been made. In spite of the fact that the petition in his behalf was turned down by the city council Thomas Madden has applied in due form for a renewal of his license to sell liquor on Pleasant street. The total number of saloons licensed during the past year was 47; the number of breweries, 3.

ALL CATS MUST BE EXTERMINATED

Sixty Armed Citizens of Racine Are Waging War Upon the Feline Tribe.

Racine is making great preparations for a wholesale slaughter of the "innocents." This time the feline tribe of the hills domesticated branch are to be the objective point of their leaden tipped "hilletoux." Numerous chickens have been killed by the wandering cats in some sections of the city and to end this citizens have armed themselves with shotguns and rifles and are on the poor pussy that wanders from its own fireside. The police have been called upon to stop the shooting within the city limits but still the slaughter continues.

BLIVEN WAS NOT A GOOD PROVIDER

According to the Testimony of His Wife, in the Action Brought for Desertion This Morning.

Before Judge Field in municipal court this morning was commenced the hearing of W. H. Bliven, formerly of Fulton, charged with desertion by his wife, Mrs. Zella Bliven. Mrs. Bliven testified on the stand that she was married to Will Bliven in Rockford on Sept. 17, 1901, and that after the wedding she went with her husband to live at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bliven, in the town of Fulton; that he left her on the 22d of October of the same year; and that she remained at the Bliven household until February of the following year, a child having been born on the 7th of January. According to her further testimony the husband did not prove to be a very liberal provider. She stated that George Lyons of Edgerton, her father, gave her ten dollars the day she was married and that she turned this over to Bliven when they arrived in Janesville on their way to Rockford. With the exception of eighty cents which he gave her the night before his departure when he sold his horse for $50, and a quarter which she had taken on from his pockets for the purpose of buying meat, she alleged that no other money from that source had come into her hands during the five weeks he lived with her. She said that she had heard from her husband several times and that in the last letter written from Edgerton about a month ago he had informed her that he had enlisted in the army for three years and she would probably never see him again. During the past two years she had been supporting herself and child by working in the stripping sheds and other similar occupations.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The consensus of opinion, among the business men, is that Fond du Lac has had enough carnival for all time. The one just ended has disrupted business for a whole week, taken a lot of money out of the city, and left nothing in return, save a small amount that went to the Fond du Lac County Fair Association. The people of this city and county are loyal to the fair association, and are willing to give it any legitimate aid in their power, but will certainly draw the line on carnivals in the future.

GYPSIES THOUGHT THEY HAD HORSE

Belonging to Fred Sheldon, That Strayed or Was Stolen From Howard Farm Sunday Night.

Sunday night a black Clydesdale mare belonging to Fred Sheldon disappeared from the Howard farm. The animal had been allowed to graze along the highway but had always returned to the barn at night. An advertisement was inserted in the Gazette and this morning bright and early two gypsies belonging to a band who were in Janesville a short time ago appeared at the store and after exhibiting the advertisement which they had clipped from this paper's columns stated that they had come upon a horse answering to the description on the road about two miles this side of Edgerton. Mr. Sheldon accompanied them to their camp.

RECEPTION FOR JOSIAH WRIGHT

FIFTY YEARS A MEMBER OF THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

HAS AN EXCELLENT RECORD

Mrs. Mary Hyzer, Who Joined Church at the Same Time, Was Present.

In honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the day on which Josiah T. Wright joined the Congregational church of this city the regular mid week prayer meeting last night was turned into a reception for Mr. Wright. The affair was a complete surprise to him. The parlors were filled and especially were the elder members of the church in evidence.

Much Speaking
The first portion of the evening was devoted to a eulogy of Mr. Wright's services to the world as a Christian. Among the speakers was Rev. Denison, who addressed the assembly in a most pleasing and kind manner. Mr. Wright spoke concerning Mr. Wright's work as a member of the church committee. Mr. H. J. Cunningham told of what Mr. Wright had accomplished as Superintendent of the Sunday school, which position he held for twenty five years. W. S. Jeffers spoke to the church as a whole. Mr. Wright being taken so completely by surprise had made no preparation but was equal to the occasion and talked in a reminiscent mood of the incidents that were remarkable in the history of the church. He told of some of the old members and the early days of the church, the beginnings of the Rock County Sunday School association and of the work that it had accomplished.

Informal Reception
Then followed an informal reception and old times were recalled. Mr. Mary Hyzer who joined at the same time that Mr. Wright did and is now a member of the Central Methodist church of this city was among those present.

Mr. Wright's Record
In the old minute book of the church the record of Mr. Wright's becoming a member of the Congregational church is found. It says in part:

Just fifty years ago today at the preparatory lecture, the following persons were received as members of the church: Mr. Josiah T. Wright, Mrs. Cella B. Wright, Mrs. Eliza Stinson, Mrs. M. C. Sloan, Mr. James W. Story, Mrs. Charles Story, Miss Harriet A. Holton, Mrs. Mary A. Hyzer and Mr. David Sabine. In those days the preparatory lecture came on Saturday afternoon. This custom continued until after the war. Of these ten Mr. Wright is the only one now a member of the church. Five died in membership and five were dismissed by letter, among whom is Mrs. Mary Hyzer who resides on South Jackson street.

Mr. Wright joined the church the second of July 1854 by letter from the Pilgrim church of Brooklyn. At this time Rev. Hiram Foot was pastor. Mr. Wright's membership number is 217 and two of those who were members at the time when Mr. Wright came are still continuing their membership. These are Mrs. Catherine Alden and Mrs. L. B. Jerome.

Elected Clerk
Deacon Josiah T. Wright was elected clerk of the church in 1855 and member of the church committee in 1857, a relation which he sustained until incapacitated by his years, when he became Deacon Emeritus for life. He was elected a member of the church committee in 1869 and he has since sustained that relation until the present time.

Mrs. Wright was received by letter from the Presbyterian church of Auburn, New York in 1855. Miss Marion Mitchell alone represents all the surviving accessions that followed Mr. Wright's reception into membership. Mr. Wright's election as superintendent of the Sunday school occurred about the year 1857, and in this important office he rendered unexcelled service, and made impressions upon the lives of many boys and girls that have been reproduced in the various activities of this and many other churches.

Three Churches
The Congregational church has built three homes of worship. Mr. Wright was not here at the building of the first, but he came in good season to help pay its debts. He was here at the erection of the last two edifices and undoubtedly as much of his money and work is represented by the two church buildings that have stood upon the site of the first as of any member of the church or parish.

MRS. N. A. GOSS CALLED BY DEATH

Final Summons Came This Morning at 12:15 at the Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. Victoria Potter.

At 12:15 o'clock this morning the death angel entered the home of Mrs. Victoria Potter at 9 Forest Park boulevard, and removed to her home on high her beloved mother, Mrs. N. A. Goss. Mrs. Goss has been in feeble health for the past year and has been tenderly cared for by her only daughter to whom this grief comes as a crushing weight. One son, J. H. Goss of Edgerton, is also left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. Nancy Vanderlyn was born in Monroe, Courtland county, May 16, 1821, and has recently passed her 83rd birthday. Upon her marriage to W. J. Goss she came to Rock county and it has since been her home. One son, Kossuth, preceded her to the other world. Mrs. Goss was also a sister of the late E. W. Vanderlyn of this city. The interment will be at Edgerton. The funeral will be Sunday morning at 8:30 from the family residence.

Honor to Age

All people over eighty years of age are earnestly requested to report to Geo. M. McKee, Geo. Simpson, or C. J. Milburn, to head the procession of the fourth. There are over twenty-five residents of Janesville over eighty years old, several over ninety, and one will be 100 next October.

Is Now Appearing in the Nonesuch Brothers' Tumbling and Aerial Exhibitions.

Agesimbrotus is a Japanese by birth and like all his race is a great athlete and acrobat. He is diminutive of size and can truthfully and proudly boast that he is the smallest, youngest and greatest of acrobats. He can dive off a sixty-foot aerial ladder into a bucket of water with no injury at all and also spring into the air and turn six complete revolutions without any other motive force than his own muscles.

AFTER A FUGITIVE FROM JOHNSTOWN

Local Police Were Looking Today for Morris Connors, Alleged To Have Fled with Firm's Money.

The local police received word from Johnstown about two o'clock this afternoon to keep a sharp lookout for Morris Connors, a young man seventeen years of age employed by the Joyce firm, who is alleged to have left suddenly this morning with eight dollars of the firm's money. It was believed that he secured a ride to Janesville with one of the mail men but this report could not be substantiated. Other rumors were to the effect that he had fled to Chicago. Acting Chief Brown captured the young man at the depot at three o'clock.

PRESS COMMENT

Ashland Press: The contemporary which speaks of Mr. La Follette and his gang of conspirators as "our erring sisters," was probably not thinking of Evan Lewis, the Stranger, and his gang of "throw-em-out boys," nor could they have had in mind the bull-necked square-jawed specimen from Oshkosh who held the fort at the Victoria hotel at Chicago.

PRESS HAS RIGHT OF CRITICISM

Supreme Court of North Carolina Renders an Important Decision for Newspapers.

Judge J. C. Pritchard of the United States circuit of North Carolina, has filed his opinion in the celebrated case of Josephus Daniels, Mr. Daniels, who is editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, had been fined $2,000 for contempt of District Judge Funnell, the offense consisting of a criticism of the court's action in regard to a receivership for a railroad.

Judge Pritchard's opinion will be recognized as an authority in regard to newspaper utterances that might be construed as contempt of court. "The force of public opinion in this country in favor of the freedom of the press," says Judge Pritchard in his decision, "has restrained the free exercise of the power to punish this class of contempt, and in many jurisdictions statutes have been enacted depriving the court of the power to punish them. It was taken from the federal courts by act of congress in 1831, which act deprives those courts of the common law power to protect by this process their suitors, witnesses, officers and themselves against the libel of the press, though published and circulated pending the trial of a case therein."

Construe Liberty as a License
That newspapers sometimes engage in unwarranted criticism of the courts cannot be denied. In some instances, they construe the liberty of the press as a license to authorize them to engage in wholesale abuse of the court, but these instances are rare and do not warrant a departure from the well-settled principles of the law as declared by congress and construed by the courts. If judges charged with the administration of the law are not to be criticized on account of their official conduct the rights of individuals imperiled.

Where Contempt Would Exist.
There may be instances where the publication of editorials and other matter in newspapers would bring the author within the limitations of the statute. For instance, if a newspaper should publish an article concerning a trial which was being conducted by a jury and should send a copy of the paper containing such article to the jury or a member thereof, for the purpose of influencing them in their decision, it would present a question whether such conduct would not be misbehavior in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to obstruct the administration of justice.

Judge Exceeds His Authority.
It appears that the distinguished judge who adjudged the petitioner to be in contempt of court exceeded the authority granted in the act of 1831 and that the court was without jurisdiction. Such being the case, the judgment of the court is void and therefore a nullity.

"In view of the foregoing, the court finds that the petitioner is unlawfully restrained of his liberty and it is therefore considered and ordered in the court that the said Josephus Daniels be discharged from the custody of the marshal of the United States and that he go hence without delay."

STATE MEETING OF DRUGGISTS

Program for the Convention is Now Complete—An Excellent Time Assured.

The program for the annual convention of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association to be held in Fond du Lac August 2, 3, 4, has been completed and is now in the hands of the printer. It will be issued to the members of the association in a few days. The program is certainly an entertaining one, and there is every indication that the convention in that city will be very successful. There are several business meetings arranged for, as well as a number of social sessions, including a boat ride to Columbia park, many games and contests, a grand ball and reception, card parties and lastly a masquerade carnival in which the druggists and their wives will appear in grotesque costumes upon the streets.

E. H. Helmstreich, of this city, will deliver a response to the address of welcome in behalf of the association.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE LOVERS ARE SEPARATED. The cessation of the storm found the old hayboat still afloat, but the two lovers on top of the hay were in a precarious condition. The wind and rain had chilled Alma and she snuggled close to Harvey for warmth. "My darling," he said as he hugged her close. "There's indeed a terrible experience for you. Rather would I have remained in the prison at Tills than so to let you to such peril."

"Dear one, they would have killed you, and that would have killed me. Is it not better for us to die together, if we must die?"

"Yes, it is better; but, since the old hull and its load of hay have survived the worst of the storm, we may yet run across a boat that will pick us up."

"Let us hope so."

"They spoke little as they huddled together on the hay. Each was straining to hear the faintest sound that might come from over the water. "Hark!" said Harvey. "Dearest, did you not hear something?"

"I fancied—I hoped—I heard a shout. Can it be that Russian boats are out after us so soon, and in that storm?"

"The Russians would not be shouting. I fancy it is some one in distress. Perhaps the Turks in that creaky are shouting for help."

With clasped hands they waited through the dark hours of the early morning. Dawn began streaking the east. Harvey strained his eyes to pierce the scarcely perceptible light. Not more than 200 feet from them was a long, low hull that seemed at rest. The hum of voices could be heard as the wind and rolling current carried them nearer.

"We are saved!" cried Alma, and she went on his breast. "Ho, there!" shouted Harvey at the top of his voice. "Whoever you are, help us!"

seemed to recognize that long, low, black hull. A rope was thrown to him, and he caught it after several attempts. Those on board the vessel drew the hayboat toward it.

"Who are you?" came a voice in a jargon that Harvey happily understood.

"We are castaways on a wreck," he answered, trying to produce a combination of tongues that these men could understand. He had been long enough in the east to know that when one crossed a frontier he did not at once leave the language of one country behind him and find a totally distinct tongue of another in use. The people who trade across a frontier borrow from each other enough to combine their dialects and produce a sufficiently intelligible language for intercourse, and as no records from the frontier the borrowed words from the other country are gradually lost until the tongue of the natives is in use. Thus it was that, no matter with whom he came in contact, Irons could make himself understood.

"We will take you," came the voice, and the hayboat was drawn close to the other. Powerful arms were out-reached to them, and Irons, stiff and sore from the experience of the night, gathered his strength to pass Alma over.

"A soldier of the hated czar!" yelled one on board, scanning the uniform of the Inspector general of prisons, which Alma still wore. "One of our enemies!"

A sharp cry escaped Alma, and Harvey sang out:

"Have a care how you use that woman! That is my wife. She wears that uniform only to escape!"

As he spoke he tried to leap to the other vessel, but a long spear stopped him.

"Remain where you are till we understand this thing!" said one who seemed to be an officer. "If you attempt to come on this ship before you are wanted, you will be killed."

"What is it you wish to understand?" Another and another spear appeared until a regular wall of lance points barred him from the vessel.

"Remain where you are!" The terrified Alma was taken, with polite attentions, to a comfortable cabin, fitted up in oriental luxury. Here she saw, weeping upon a divan, the beautiful daughter of the murdered Barteklis.

RAILWAY WORK IS LESS THIS YEAR

Reports Show That But Little Work Has Been Done the First Half of the Year.

As had been anticipated, railway building in the United States during the first six months of 1904 shows a falling off in comparison with the corresponding periods of 1902 and 1903, according to the Railway Age. Increased operating expenses and decreased traffic, resulting in smaller net earnings, together with the continued stringency in the money market, furnish the explanation of a decline in construction.

Operating expenses, already high, were materially increased during the first quarter of the year by the severity of the winter and the spring found many of the railways borrowing money for present necessities, and constrained to retrenchment, both in their current expenses and in their projects for the immediate future. Consequently many plans for improvement and extensions proposed by some of the great railway systems were suspended and are still held in abeyance.

But in spite of all this no less than 1,937 miles of track have been completed in thirty-three states and territories. Missouri leads with 239.4 miles on five roads. Texas is second with 234.57 miles on seven roads. Illinois is third with 151.3 miles on eight roads and Nevada is fourth with 137 miles on two roads. In the east Pennsylvania has 107 miles on ten roads and Oklahoma has 104.5 miles on three roads. Alaska has 8 miles, Maryland 7, Michigan 4.5, Virginia 4.5, Wisconsin 6 and Oregon 6. The track laid the first six months of 1904 amounted to 2,221 miles, while for the entire year it aggregated 5,786 miles. If the same ratio is maintained during the present year, the new mileage for 1904 will approximate 5,000 miles.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It always itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the germ, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WARNING ISSUED BY A PHYSICIAN

The Fourth Will Soon Be Here—
Beware of the Tetanus That Lurks in Firecrackers.

Janesville is to hold a fourth of July celebration with a big C this year. Without doubt there will be many accidents from the careless handling of firecrackers and other dangerous toys which the small boy delights in handling without any fear. The dangers of lockjaw are near. One prominent physician in speaking of the coming celebration said:

"The large majority of fourth of July casualties would not endanger life of the injured in themselves were it not for the great danger that tetanus, or lockjaw, will develop. Tetanus is caused by a specific germ, which is to be found almost everywhere in the soil. As a result the deadly germ is extremely likely to be present in the material of which the explosive is composed, or even more likely in the dirt on the hands or clothing. It is easy, therefore, for the explosion to carry deadly particles into the soft tissues of the skin.

"One of the peculiarities of the lockjaw germ is that it can not live in the presence of free oxygen, that is, exposed to the air. For its growth it requires the absolute exclusion of air. For this reason deep puncture wounds are far more dangerous than large open wounds. The poison developed by the tetanus germ is one of the most virulent known, and it is not the germ itself, but this poison, which is fatal.

"It is of great importance that all wounds in which dirt or particles of the explosive or of clothing have been forced into the injury, be given immediate attention. They should be thoroughly opened, and then cleansed with soap and water and a disinfecting solution. Under no circumstances should the wound be closed, either with court plaster or colloidion. To close the wound would be to court the dangers of lockjaw. The wound should heal openly, and from the bottom upward. In the second place, the use of tetanus antitoxin is of vital value. It has proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that it is a preventative. To be of service, however, it must be used before the disease has begun to develop, for it is only a preventative and not a cure."

Janesville physicians are laying in a special supply of fluid, bandages and antitoxin for the occasion.

Board of General Appraisers Upholds
Objections of Fish Dealers.

New York, July 1.—A protest by fish importers against the assessment of a duty on frozen fish amounting to one cent a pound has been sustained by the board of general appraisers.
